On 10 or 12 February 1953 the SNV received an order from Czechoslovakia for 800 tons of special type cylinder oil to be delivered as soon as possible. The combustion point was to be at least 285 degrees centigrade; viscosity was to be between 6 and 6.5. The maximum daily production of this type of cylinder oil by the SNV is from six to seven tons.

Comment: For previous information, from another source, on cylinder oil deliveries from Austria to Czechoslovakia, see [redacted]
